Our Direction

Founded by Royal Charter in 1967, the University of Stirling was the first new university in Scotland for more than 400 years. Since its foundation, the University has embraced its role as an innovative, intellectual and cultural institution with a pioneering spirit and a passion for excellence.

This is an exciting time to join us. Launching in April 2024, our new Strategic Plan builds on our significant achievements to date and sets out our shared vision to 2030, with a focus on how we make an impact on people's lives and be a force for good in the world. As we move forward, the University aims to be at the forefront of a new era for education and will focus on enhancing the student and staff experience, increasing our research excellence, strengthening our partnerships and becoming more sustainable, bolstering our international reputation, and improving the health and wellbeing of our community and those in wider society.

We will benchmark ourselves against the best and be seen as a role model by our peers in terms of how we teach, how our students learn, how we uncover new knowledge, and how we share that knowledge. The plan's success will be measured by our enhanced research profile; through quantifiable improvements in learning and teaching outcomes, including graduate employability, and by recognition that we have made a tangible difference to our community and the wider world.

Strategic Plan 2030

Our shared vision

Our vision is to make an impact on people's lives and be a force for good in the world. Three key pillars underpin the delivery of our vision:

- People: Our community supports one another to deliver excellence in all we do.
- Place: From our roots in Stirling, we are making an impact regionally, nationally and globally.
- Purpose: We are driven by our ambition to enhance lives and be a force for good in the world.

Our mission

Our mission is to strive for excellence in all we do, delivering world-leading teaching and research, supporting students to discover new knowledge and develop their skills, and making a difference to our region and the wider world.

Our values

To deliver our mission, we will be guided by our institutional values:

- Ambition for our people, our institution, our city, region and the global community to be the best they can be.
- Integrity in how we behave – being recognised as open, honest and trustworthy.
- Respect and care for each other, harnessing inclusivity to enrich what we do and how we do it.

Our five strategic priorities

We will deliver our ambitions by maximising our resources and prioritising five focus areas: students, staff, research, engagement, and health and wellbeing.

- Students: Focusing on their personal and academic growth to cultivate creative, responsible, skilled and resilient graduates.
- Staff: Enhancing our culture of support for one another, enabling colleagues to develop and sustain fulfilling careers while delivering our ambitions individually and collectively.
- Research: Producing world-leading research and innovation with national and global impact.
- Engagement: Partnering with key players to make a difference in our city, region, nation and the wider world, and harnessing the power of our global alumni network to support the University's mission.
- Health and wellbeing: Investing in our people's physical and mental health, and enhancing society's health and wellbeing through world-leading research and education.

The University of Stirling

The University of Stirling is committed to providing education with a purpose and carrying out research which has a positive impact on communities across the globe – addressing real life issues, providing solutions and helping to shape society.

Stirling is 4th in Scotland and 43rd in the UK for research impact, with 87% of its research having an outstanding or very considerable impact on society – and more than 80% rated either world leading or internationally excellent (Research Excellence Framework 2021). Interdisciplinary in its approach, Stirling’s research informs its teaching curriculum and facilitates opportunities for knowledge exchange and collaboration between staff, students, industry partners and the wider community.

The University of Stirling is ranked among the top 30 UK universities for student satisfaction (National Student Survey) and top 10 in the UK for postgraduate student experience (Postgraduate Taught Experience Survey) and has an overall five-star rating in the QS Stars University Ratings.

More than 18,500 students study with the University of Stirling globally, with over 140 nationalities represented on our scenic central Scotland campus. The campus – also home to 1,800 staff – has its own loch and castle, and a recent multi-million-pound redevelopment, Campus Central, has delivered modern, flexible, and digitally connected study and social spaces at the heart of campus, including enhanced student support and retail and catering outlets.

The University has twice been recognised with a Queen’s Anniversary Prize – the first for its Institute for Social Marketing and Health (2014) and the second for its Institute of Aquaculture (2019). Stirling is Scotland’s University for Sporting Excellence and its recently redeveloped world-class facilities provide the perfect training environment for the University’s sports scholars – many of whom compete at the highest level, including at the Olympics and Commonwealth Games – and for students, staff, and the wider community.

As a signatory to the £214 million Stirling and Clackmannanshire City Region Deal, the University is driving productivity and inclusive growth across the Forth Valley, and beyond. Through pioneering collaborative solutions to global challenges, researchers are putting innovation, skills, and partnership at the heart of a sustainable economic recovery.

Great Reasons to Work With Us

We're proud to call Stirling our home. It's a city shaped by a unique history, a lively arts scene and the beauty of the Ochil Hills.

Our city

Also known as the 'Gateway to the Highlands', Stirling is the perfect place to work and study. It combines the charm of a historic city with the buzz of a young community. Stirling is in the historic and geographical heart of Scotland with quick access to Scotland's two largest cities, Glasgow and Edinburgh, and beautiful wild scenery.

The City of Stirling has been voted within the top 3 happiest places in Scotland to live (Rightmove Happy at Home Index 2022).

The city has a friendly atmosphere and strong sense of community. In and around Stirling, you'll find a rich variety of shops, bars, restaurants, and entertainment.

The city will also benefit from the Stirling and Clackmannanshire City Region Deal, a £214 million investment in the future of the region which offers an unprecedented opportunity for businesses, researchers and innovators to work strategically to unlock productivity, and inclusive, sustainable growth.

Our campus

Our beautiful, accessible 330-acre campus is a gorgeous place to call home. It has an iconic sports centre with an Olympic-sized swimming pool, medical centre and pharmacy, Macrobert Arts Centre cinema and theatre, and a variety of shops, restaurants and cafés.

Our people

Our people are at the heart of everything we do.

Wherever they work, our dedicated teams are committed to enhancing our student experience. They shape our environment, ensuring the safety and wellbeing of our students and people. They create and maintain our facilities, promoting collaboration and community engagement. They drive cutting-edge research, tackling local, regional, and global challenges. They educate and empower our students, leaving a lasting impact on their lives.

To ensure that the University's wider strategic aims are met, we have developed a new People Strategy. The People Strategy will serve as the guiding compass that will shape our work and people-related initiatives over the next few years.

Being future-ready means investing in our people's health and wellbeing, continuing to evolve our innovative approach to progressive working practices, and further building an inclusive environment that responds to each individual's diverse range of needs and expectations. Staff health and wellbeing is supported by an Employee Assistance Programme, generous annual leave, members rates at our sports facilities, and family friendly policies.

Our benefits also include membership of the Universities Superannuation Scheme (uss.co.uk/for-members).

Our Agile Working Framework enables dynamic, progressive working practices that support agility, inclusion, growth, and high performance.

At Stirling, we're committed to fostering a culture where everybody can realise their aspirations, feel connected to our priorities and know they make a meaningful impact.
